Soft Solutions releases FaxPack version 5, the first cross-platform plug-in for FileMaker and 4-Sight FAX v5

Atlanta, GA ---- March 4, 2004 ---- Macintosh and Windows faxing from FileMaker is now available with the beta release of FaxPack version 5. FileMaker versions 5.5 through 7 will be supported for direct faxing from any FileMaker-based application.

FaxPack 5 for FileMaker works exclusively with 4-Sight FAX v5. The new plug-in allows a FileMaker developer to fully automate the creation and sending of faxes directly from any FileMaker application through 4-Sight FAX v5 servers. With FaxPack 5, the FileMaker developer can manage user logins, list and pick cover pages, automate print driver selection, establish sending priorities and attach fax enclosures.

FaxPack 5 provides faxing capabilities under Macintosh OS 9 and X as well as Windows 98, Me, XP and 2000. Eliminating the need for the 4-Sight FAX v5 client, FaxPack for FileMaker provides one-click integrated database faxing. At the same time, it removes the need for maintaining multiple address books. In addition, version 5's TCP/IP fax server capability allows customers to initiate faxes from remote databases through any Internet connection.

"Since the 4-Sight API enabled database faxing plug-in capabilities in 1994, we've been amazed at the solutions developed for clients. We're pleased the FileMaker community will now have a cross-platform plug-in available to provide clients with integrated faxing," states Soft Solutions president, Tim Haratine.

FaxPack 5 developer licenses are €295,- per platform (Macintosh or Windows) per developer. The version 5 Beta release is now available for download at <http://www.4sightfax.com/5FMDownload.html>. The final FaxPack release is expected to be available shortly after FileMaker 7 is released.
